5 Transition [confidential]

Context
ALT changed its legal status to a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) [9 Sept 2015] and is now in a position to employ staff directly. The Trustees have undertaken a review of the operations for the launch of a new strategy in early 2017 and have identified a clear need to move to a more distributed model of operations. This has led ALT to the decision to move away from the current hosting agreement with Oxford Brookes University. A strategic partnership will continue.

The key reasons why ALT’s Trustees have decided to undertake the transition are:
1. ALT’s activities have increased across the UK, making it more effective to have staff distributed in different regions to better support Members;
2. ALT has been operated as a blended organisation for a number of years, with the majority of the activity taking place online;
3. Moving to a distributed model will enable ALT to spend less charitable income on operations and more of resources for strategic work.

The key factors that informed the decision to do so at this time are:
1. ALT is in a stable financial position
2. ALT has completed the first year as a CIO
3. ALT new strategy sets out an ambitious vision for a growing community and staffing/operations need to meet these aims

Where we are currently
Since the last Trustee meeting work has continued led by the Trustee working group with regular reporting to all Trustees via GPC. The process plan set out by our HR Advisor Jo Cairns has been updated and we are on track.

We are now in the main phase of the transition and this paper includes the following recommendations for Trustees:

1. Note progress made consulting staff about the transition and TUPE transfer
2. Agree the framework for the new employment contracts from ALT incl pensions
3. Note plans for office transition and formally agree to terminate current licence agreement
4. Approve the new Partnership with OBU from 2018
5. Formally note the outline of next steps for completing the transition

6 Finance
Daniel reported on ALT’s current financial position. The current financial position at the end of Q3 is positive and in line with our current financial strategy.

Overall we are close to meeting our targets for income generation. The figures below show that membership and CMALT income are close to meeting the targets and are set to exceed them. Events income for the Annual Conference was good and together these increases income made up for a shortfall from OER17 income earlier in the year.

Income from the BLE project is greater than expected but includes a proportion of fees for Digital Champions which ALT is managing, so that the increase won’t have much impact on the overall income for ALT itself. It does however enable us to cover costs of internal resources devoted to project work to a larger extent.

Expenditure at the end of Q3 is lower than planned, resulting in a currently higher positive outturn. One factor in keeping the expenditure low is the journal publication being suspended and saving 6 months of publication costs. Some of this surplus is due to expenditure being only involved in the final quarter. It is also part of our strategy to provide a bit more flexibility during this transition period.

It is usual that we see very little income in Q4 and steady expenditure, which is why the end of Q3 shows a larger positive balance.

Year end forecast
Led by Daniel the Trustees then discussed the forecast: Membership and CMALT are both set to achieve or exceed the budget. This will support us putting in place additional resources for developing CMALT and Membership services as planned.

By making savings we were able to achieve a good outturn for events, even though income was lower than expected.

The Governance costs include transition costs, which are added to the expenditure.

There is some income to be deferred to the next financial year, which the auditor will advise about.
Overall we anticipate to achieve a balanced outturn, hopefully slightly better than the budget and absorbing a proportion of the transition costs such as additional HR and pension advice.

Our budget and financial strategy for next year will focus on stability for the year in which ALT starts being an employer and covering the costs of the transition, with a view to increasing our ambitions the following year for the third year of the current strategy period.

Trustees then discussed Editorial Board duties and outreach
In addition to the work of the Editorial Board, which is largely focused on current submissions, reviewing and special projects/issues, we are now seeking to establish a small journal steering group to directly support Trustees in the governance of the journal.

This new group will include the Chair of the Editorial Board who is also a Trustee, 1-2 Editors, a representative from Open Academia and up to 3 representatives from other professional bodies. As well as providing strong and focused governance the group’s purpose will be to share knowledge and best practice with similar professional bodies who publish journals for example in view of applying for review for gaining an impact factor and improving the peer-review process.
Currently, we propose to invite Dr Jill Buban, Senior Director for Publications and Research at the Online Learning Consortium, alongside Dr Paul Gormley, executive director of the Irish Learning Technology Association and a representative from asclilie, Australia, to join this new effort.

Recommendation: The Board seeks Trustees’ formal approval for setting up this new Working Group to undertake strategic development of the journal and report directly to Trustees until the end of the current ALT strategy (2 years).

The Trustees approved all recommendations.

key actions from the Committee, starting with Committee Members volunteering to take part in the Winter Conference. Sarah reported on the Committee’s discussion about support for CMALT and the expansion of the framework with the CMALT Pathways project. The Committee has identified ways in which it can contribute to the CMALT Pathways project and support the development of support for Assessors as part of the project. Alongside other Committees this Committee will provide 1-2 volunteers to help informat the Terms of Reference for the inaugural Research Award.

Trustees particularly noted thanks to Tom Palmer for his outstanding work on membership and CMALT.

Recommendation: Trustees formally approved the Committee’s recommendation to establish the ALT Members Group North East.

Recommendation: Trustees formally approved James McDowell’s appointment as Vice-Chair.

10 Further Education and cross-sector engagement

Bella reported from the recent meeting of the Further Education and Cross-Sector Engagement Committee and also the FE & cross-sector Report. Bella has had new Members join the Committee and their meeting covered a lot of recent developments. Bella discussed work from the meeting which focused on Members promoting the Blended Learning Essentials course and contributing to the ongoing work writing a collaborate guide about how Learning Technologist can engage with startups. The Committee focused also on the work of the FELTAG SIG, which seems to be transitioning to a different phase of its existence. The Committee also touched upon events and noted how the Winter Online Conference has encouraged participation from across sectors in recent years. Committee Members have offered mentoring to authors for conferences. Members also discussed about how they could link up better with sector bodies.

Recommendation: Trustees formally appointed Rachel Challen’s appointment as Vice-Chair.

11 Events Report

Trustees then discussed the Events Report from Jane Marsh. The report covers the period between June and September 2017, which included the 2017 Annual Conference and looks ahead to April 2018, taking in the Winter Conference and OER18. It has been a busy and successful summer and we thank you for your help in making it so.

The report included the following actions for Committee Members:

1. Promote the members only call for proposals to the ALT Online Winter Conference.
2. Promote the call for papers for OER18.
3. Disseminate opportunities for sponsorship and exhibition for OER18 and the Winter Conference.
4. For each committee to put forward two volunteers to help moderate sessions during the conference.

Trustees discussed the report in detail including reflecting on the success of the Annual Conference, plans for the Online Winter Conference and OER18 Conference and the conference next year. Maren and Nic to pick up Playful Learning conference as part of the ALT events programme. Trustees welcomed the upcoming Tender for Conference Venues.

Thanks noted to Jane Marsh for her work.

12 Trustees and staff working together

Trustees explored a discussion paper about how Trustees can develop how Trustees and staff working together. In the context of the current transition away from the university and to a fully distributed model it seems like a good time to consider ideas.
Collaboration and support for all staff
The aim is to ensure we maximise how Trustees can support the work of the staff team and continue to get more insight into how ALT operates day to day. Current suggestions include:

- Consult staff on future ways of working together;
- Update both Staff Handbook and Trustee Code of Practice with updated information;
- Joint away day 2018 in the first half of 2018 to mark the completion of the transition;
- Informal invitation for Trustees to occasionally visit and observe team meetings;
- Trustees to provide informal mentoring for individual members of staff in areas of their expertise and as part of continued professional development for staff and Trustees.

Support for senior staff
The aim is to review how ALT supports senior staff in the long term. Current suggestions include:

- Consult senior staff on future ways of working together;
- Update both Staff Handbook and Trustee Code of Practice with updated information including for processes like taking research leave;
- Set out what liaison between senior staff and relevant Trustees should look like;
- Consider and report back to Trustees the implications for the Chair’s term being limited to a single year and seek to propose alternatives that will help mitigate risk and provide greater continuity;
- Ensure that appropriate mentoring/coaching is in place for senior staff;
- Review arrangements in place to review senior staffing, succession planning and recruitment.

Individual Trustees shared their perspective and suggestions and offers of input for work in this area. There was a useful reflection on the role and responsibilities of Trustees, particularly in relation to the turnover between the rotating Chair of ALT role.

Action: Trustees to collaborate on a Google doc for this between now and the next Trustee meeting.

Trustees then noted the dates for 2018 meetings: 15 February (Manchester), 21 June, 12 Sept (Convening Meeting) and 15 November 2018 (Hosting orgs to be confirmed).
